

How God has blessed Living Water Community Transformation in 2012

Pastor Development

Pastors are studying a two year Bible curriculum developed for African pastors. This year God provided the curriculum, partially translated into Dinka. One of our local pastors is leading the study, and translating the remainder of the material into Dinka. This was a special blessing, as most of our pastors do not read English well enough to comprehend spiritual truths.

School children praying

Six hundred children finished another year of Christian education. In a country where 1.9% of the children complete primary school, this is a huge blessing. The children receive basic primary education and Bible teaching every day. They receive one nutritious meal and a uniform. For many of our children these are the only food and clothes they will receive.

Women's Ministry

More than 100 women are a part of "Women of Hope", a name they gave themselves. They meet regularly for prayer, Bible study, worship and skills training. Health teaching, sewing, water pump repair, and gardening are a part of the training that is offered. The ministry is vibrant and highly valued. God has blessed us with an Assistant Director of Women's Ministry, allowing us to expand.

2012 Year-end Giving

As the end of 2012 quickly approaches please consider a special contribution to LWCT. As a 501(c)(3), contributions to LWCT are tax deductible. Your contribution may be made by cash, check, credit card (PayPal online), or stock. Appreciated stock is a good way to contribute, because capital gains taxes are not assessed and your contribution goes farther. To be deductible for the 2012 tax year, contributions must be post-marked, transacted, or received by LWCT on or before December 31, 2012. For questions about year-end giving or electronically transferring stock to LWCT, you may contact Don Steen, LWCT treasurer, 682 936-4076 (home), 205 515-7758 (cell), dsteen@charter.net (email).
